

WHY HUMANE EDUCATION?

We are pleased to offer a free Humane Education Program for use in your school, after school program, summer camp or other organizations serving students in the community.

Our program, Living Harmoniously with Animals, is designed for students in grades one through eight. It consists of one interactive, 45-minute lesson per grade, each focusing on a different topic. If group size is small, two grade levels may be combined and one of the lessons for one of those grades chosen. The program was created by certified teachers and teaches skills consistent with the New Jersey Student Learning Standards.

Humane Education teaches:

- Kindness, compassion and respect for animals, people, and our environment.
- How to act responsibly and make good choices that benefit us and others, including animals, and the environment.
- How all-inclusive team work and collaboration helps us obtain better results when solving problems.
- How to think and apply critical thinking to problem-solving.
- How we can be agents of change.

Humane Education leads to better understanding of the issues we face in our world and teaches how to obtain better outcomes for all. It is an important and fundamental part of a child's formation that teaches decision-making for a more humane and sustainable world.

People for Animals is pleased to offer this program free of charge for your use. If you would like more information, or to find out about scheduling a presentation by one of our trained Humane Education volunteers for your organization, contact:

Eric Larnick
People for Animals, Volunteer Manager
eric@pfaonline.org

About People for Animals

Founded in 1980, People for Animals, Inc. is an independent nonprofit animal welfare organization not affiliated with any other humane society or any national or local animal welfare groups. The primary mission of PFA is to eliminate animal suffering through affordable essential healthcare, public policy advocacy and community programs.